Area 4-H Poultry Show & Sale

On Thursday, November 4, youth from the 4-H programs in Granville, Franklin, Vance, and Warren Counties will come together for the Area 4-H Poultry Show and Sale. This year, participants will be exhibiting New Hampshire Red and Buff Orpington chickens. This project started in May, when participants received 10 day-old chicks. Since that time, they have been caring for their chicks, and preparing to show them at this event. The event will be held at the Franklin County Farmers Market on S. Bickett Blvd. in Louisburg. Come on out, and support our Granville County 4-H members!

Granville County 4-H Members prepare for the North Carolina State Fair

When you visit the NC State Fair this year, I hope you’ll check out exhibits by Granville County 4-H members. Youth will be displaying their talents related to Arts & Crafts, Clothing Construction, and Livestock Showmanship, including showing sheep, goats, pigs, chickens, and turkeys!

An Autumn Adventure....

The State Park Rangers at Kerr Lake State Park have extended a special invitation to participants of Granville County 4-H. We will have a special glimpse of Kerr Lake State Park through a fall hayride, followed by an evening of story-telling. This should be a great family event. Please watch the Granville County Cooperative Extension Website for additional details. Please visit http://ces.granville.ncsu.edu

Healthy non-perishable foods can be dropped off at the Granville County Cooperative Extension Center. This food drive will begin during National 4-H Week (October 3rd - 9th). Food will be accepted through the month of October. This food drive will benefit A.C.I.M, which serves families in Granville County. For more information, please contact Jamie
